

HALLOWEEN NIGHT

It was the night of October 31. Everybody was dressing up and preparing everything for the big party. This was the most waited for night of the year for all those who believed in spirits. Jane and her friends picked up tickets for a nightclub which was about twenty minutes by car from Jane's house. The tickets included transportation, a drink and dinner. As the entry fee included transportation, at 9 in the evening a car was supposed to pick up them. At 9 o'clock Jane and her friends were waiting for the car to come when suddenly a horrible monster approached them. They were so scared that they didn't know what to do. The girls tried to save their lives but they couldn't. The monster was so hungry that he ate them all!

William Shakespeare